

Outward Facing Schools: What is your 'viewing point'?

The term 'outward facing school' invites school communities to 'look out' beyond the school gate and recognise their larger role in the community. Through engagement in authentic partnerships with families and the community, the outward facing school can explore learning in all its possibilities and make a contribution to the entire community's capacity to learn (Goodfellow, 2008; Leithwood, Harris & Strauss, 2010).

Principles of an 'outward facing' school

From CEOM Charter for Promoting Outward Facing School Communities, 2011

Australian Government

Catholic Education
Diocese of Cairns

Learning with Faith and Vision

CATHOLIC EDUCATION
MELBOURNE