

The Science of Learning Well... Together

Student Tip #2

Our memory of important information or concepts can be strengthened when we are forced to retrieve it after we have learnt it. Practice tests or quizzes are a great way to do that. This strategy allows you to focus on the content that is relevant, and makes the process more fun by using an online quiz platform that you can keep adding to and revisiting with your friends. (Did you know...Experiencing positive emotions are really important for learning and memory!)

Remembering stuff!

On your own...

As you read or work through content, write 5 quiz questions and answers on concepts that are important.

Create 2 other answers that are not correct, but that might trick your friends!

All group members do the same thing as they are working on their own.

With your group...

Select an online Quiz platform that you can all access.

Each group member upload their questions and answers.

Run the quiz.

Discussion. Which concepts had the most questions? Which questions were the hardest? Why were they challenging? Was there anything that you didn't have questions about?

On your own...

Were there any concepts that you struggled with?

How will you improve your understanding and recall of these?
